

UW Law Students on the Move

Summer 2011

An exciting Summer lies ahead for UW law students

Our UW law students will put their legal studies into action this Summer in Washington State and around the globe. Nearly 100% of all students find meaningful work as they turn to applying classroom knowledge to real-life situations. This Summer they will be serving as interns or externs in government, business, and public service. In the Fall, they will bring back stories about how their Summer enriched their legal education.

Summer 2011 is lining up to be another great season for students. Featured here are just a sample of the types of Summer jobs students have secured. Many more are just as exciting and challenging. The Center for Professional and Leadership Development will publish a complete list of employers and their locations on their website: www.law.washington.edu/career/

The UW School of Law offers several recruiting opportunities that help students find Summer positions. These programs include: On-

Campus Interviews, National Law School Consortium Interview Program, Northwest Public Service Career Fair, Public Interest Law Fellowships, Northwest Minority Job Fair, Sampson Fellows Program, Law Firm Diversity Programs, Judicial Externship Program for 1Ls, Puget Sound Minority Clerkship Program, and government recruiting for the Office of the U.S. Attorney, Washington State Attorney General, King County Prosecutor's Office, and several federal government agencies.

The Center partners with law school Faculty, Alumni Relations, and the Center for Public Service in many educational activities and events throughout the year. Students headed for locations not shown here include: Six students traveling to Washington DC in our UW Externship Program and several more are on their way to San Francisco, CA, Los Angeles, CA, Boulder, CO, Fairbanks, AK, Madrid, Spain, and Rome, Italy, plus many more places.
