Autumn 2013: Asian Law Lecture Series

All events take place from 3:30-5:00 pm in William H. Gates Hall Room 447, with a reception following the lecture. Please RSVP to gradlaw@uw.edu (space is limited). Lectures may be recorded.

Thursday, Sept. 26: “Territorial and Maritime Disputes Between Japan and China: Is Compromise Possible?”
Thomas J. Schoenbaum; Research Professor of Law, George Washington University Law School; Visiting Professor, UW Law

Tuesday, Oct. 15: “Translation, Codification and Transplantation of Foreign Laws in Taiwan.”
Tay-sheng Wang, LLM ’90, PhD ’92; Lifetime Distinguished Professor at National Taiwan University; Visiting Scholar, UW Law; Asian Law Center Lifetime Achievement Award

Hajime Yamamoto; Professor and Vice-Dean, Keio University Law School

Jingwen Zhu; Associate Professor Lecturer of Jurisprudence, Renmin University of China.

Tuesday, Nov. 26: “The Village Paradigm: Is It Still Viable?”
John Haley; Professor of Law, Vanderbilt University; Visiting Professor, UW Law

To request disability accommodation, contact the Disability Services Office in advance at: 206.543.6450(voice), 206.543.6452(TTY), 206.685.7264(FAX)